Recently we overheard a TV promo for a segment on the morning news show about a two year old girl who was a genius. We didn't stay around to watch the "news" for a couple of reasons, mostly because that isn't news to us. We meet parents and grandparents every day who are perfectly willing (and justified) to tell us about their young genius ... and we probably already knew it, from a friend or neighbor! In fact, you can often see pictures of these smart young minds right here on the pages of this newspaper ... and they are good looking as well as smart. This reminds us of the old program on educational radio from that place in Minnesota where, "all the women were good looking and all the children above average." We know about people and places like that, 'cause they read this news-

School folks moving around continues. Rex Bryan has accepted the position as Superintendent of the Geneva City Schools, effective shortly. Rex is another "Elba boy done good" and will be a credit to anything he is associated with. We salute him and congratulate the people of Geneva ... they also "done good." Rex is presently serving as superintendent in Lanett and has worked in Daleville and Enterprise. He will replace a retiring superintendent.

Another school move is Coffee County Superintendent Clayton Bryant. He will officially resign tonight (Thursday) to accept the super's job at Andalusia High. That school system called a retired educator back to work a couple of years ago and is just now filling the position permanently.

The legislative bill to eliminate the need for pistol permits in Alabama is officially dead. Representative Garath Moore's bill created a bushel of debate and emotions before being killed in committee. Rev. W. L. Peterson The Greater New Zion Baptist Church

RELIGION within him what we call religion. Somehow man has always been aware of the fact that there is something or somebody that is bigger and greater than

According to Webster's Dictionary, the word religion simply means "an awareness and a belief in a superior or supreme being that we call God." I don't know about you today, but personally speaking, I believe in God.

Religion is a kind of spiritual haven where one can find peace of mind, joy unspeakable. Religion wipes guilt out of our mind, rolls darkness out of our hearts, brightens the most gloomy scenes, smooths the most rugged path, makes life pleasant. Religion lightens your dark horizons, causes you to survive so called "blue Monday, trying Tuesday, willowsome Wednesday, terrible Thursday, black Friday, Satanic Saturday", and fix it so that you'll have joy bells to ring and everyday to be like Sanday.

JEWISH RABBI LARRY MAHRER from Temple Emanu-El, in Dothan, lead members of the Elba United Methodist Church through an authentic kosher Passover Seder Meal on Wednesday night, April 10th. Shown above discussing some of the Jewish religious customs with Rabbi Mahrer are from left Katie Vaughan, Mrs. Sammy Morrow and Mrs. Janice Clark.

Vive so called "blue Monday, trying Tuesday, Willowsolne Wednesday, terrible Thursday, black Friday, Satanic Saturday", and fix it so that you'll have joy bells to ring and everyday to be like Sunday.

There are many definitions for this word religion, but back when the Bible was written, the writers of the scriptures thought very little about the word religion, for throughout the sixty-six books of the Bible the word religion, for throughout the sixty-six books of the Bible the word religion is found only about a half dozen times. Jesus seems to have cared little about the word, yet He did a lot about it. "By their fruits ye shall know them," was Jesus's motto. That within itself is the acid test to what a many's religion is all about. The book of James tells us, "If a man profess to have religion, but cannot bridle his tongue or control his temple and subdue his passions or master his bad habits, leave him alone, he must be a phony." Religion is made up of two things. First you have to live in the dark like

PALS Take Trip * * *

It was a cold morning in Elba as the PALS students left for their annual trip to the Montgomery Zoo. The day of March 20 was not only cold in Elba, but even colder in Montgomery. The weather did not, however, stand in the way of the students enjoying the day. There were lots of things to do and see at the zoo. One of the high-lights was a ride on the train all around the zoo. This way a visitor can get an overall tour of the entire zoo and then go back for a closer look on their own. After the train ride, the students decided to go see the snakes (they are inside which gave everyone chance to warm-up and get out of the wind). After the snakes, the students saw the pirds, the monkeys, the bears, the giraffes, and all the other animals. The major attraction for everyone seemed to be the tigers and especially the one white tiger. After a picnic lunch, it was time to return to Elba. All the students had a great time and by Tasha Cooper Colorguard members and a new drum major will be selected at tryouts that will be held on May 7. There will be three judges for each of the tryouts. Mr. Gary Rudolph, band director, selected a piece of music to be used during tryouts for both colorguard and the drum major.

Colorguard & Drum Major Tryouts To Be Held

The candidates trying out for drum major will be judged on ability to give verbal commands, an interview, a directing routine, a marching routine, and teacher recommendations. Persons trying out for colorguard will be judged on basics, group routine, and teacher rec-ommendations. A candidate has to score at least a 70 to be in the colorguard. The colorguard captain has to have had at least one year of colorguard experience and will be judged on personal routine

ELBA TIGERS CLAIM AREA 4 BASEBALL TITLE

The Elba Tigers claimed big wins over Luverne and Louisville last week to claim the Class 3A, Area 4 baseball championship, and in doing so earned the right to host the opening round game in this week's high school playoffs. The Tigers slipped last season and failed to win the Area title for one of the few times in recent memory, but aimed toward the key Area 3 match-ups throughout the season and made certain the title came home to Elba after the one-year absence. Elba had an up-and-down season at times as it won games over such powers as G.W. Long and Enterprise, while losing to 1A Zion Chapel and twice to Greenville. The Tigers seem to have settled down in recent games; however, and now appear focused on each and every game they play, as their recent record would indicate. A team that expects to make the playoffs tries to peak at just the right time, and that time may be close by for the Tigers as they get ready for this weekend's playoff opener.

REBELS MAKE HISTORY WITH PLAYOFF BERTH

The Zion Chapel Rebels made school history last week as they claimed wins over McKenzie and New Brockton to claim the runner-up spot in Class 1A, Area 3 and the school's first-ever spot in the high school baseball playoffs. The Rebels had a solid team at the beginning of the season, but lacked the confidence that it takes to win on a consistent basis. As the wins began to pile up and Coach Matt Rodgers built the Rebels into an even better 1A club, that confidence began to grow. When the Rebels beat Elba, the players realized they were indeed a good team, and with the playoffs only a few days away the Rebels are a legitimate contender. No matter what happens from here on out, baseball at Zion Chapel is now a solid sport and one that will get better and better in years to come.

"BAT & BALL BLOW-OUT" IS FOR EVERYONE

The Elba Recreation Department will sponsor its first annual "Bat and Ball Blow-Out" this weekend and every single youth team in the city will take the field on Saturday to begin the 1996 season. The games are scheduled to begin at 9:00 at Hawkins-Williams Park, with competition in Baseball Tee-Ball, Softball Tee-Ball, Coach-Pitch Baseball, Coach-Pitch Softball and Slo-Pitch Softball, while over at Legion Field the day's events will begin at 10:00, with action in Dixie Youth and Dixie Minor Baseball, as well as Babe Ruth Baseball. A total of 26 games are on tap for Saturday, and it should be fun for the players, coaches, families and fans of all the teams. See'ya there!

Guess Who?

by Jana Padilla & Nicole Rodgers
Guess who the student of the week is.
She is a senior here at New Brockton High School. She is eighteen years old, has black hair, and brown eyes. She is also a member of the Lady Gamecock Volleyball team and attends Poplar Springs Baptist Church.
You guessed it the student of the week is Mariel Page. Mariel is the daughter of Irene and Loise Page. She has two brothers and five sisters. Her hobbies include shopping, talking on the phone, and taking time to relax. Her goal at this time is primarily built around graduating. She later plans to move to Connecticut, get a job to make a little money, and then attend a college majoring in Secondary Education.

Math Teams compete at Wallace College

Dy Jennifer Hornaby
& Pam Rogers

On March 18, 1996, Mrs. Nancy Jennings, math teacher at New Brockton High School, took four math teams to Dothan to compete in Wallace College's Math Olympiad, a math tournament for students. Students may compete in several subjects, including PreAlgebra, Algebra I, Algebra II, and Geometry. This year's teams consisted of six members each. The Pre-Algebra team was made up of Britainy Mobley, Amber Moates, Crystal Tatem, Mandy Yohn, Kellen Cole, and Rachel Carroll. Algebra I competitors were Justin Campbell, Paul McMonagle, Jana Padilla, Jason Greathouse, Erica Newman and Travis Kelley. The members of the Algebra II team were Tenisha Tidwell, Daniel Witmer, Ashley Rogers, Angie Tindol, Mark Windham, and Renee Ammons. The Geometry team consisted of Donna Spenter cer, Nicole Meeks, Elizabeth Jones, Jennifer Hornsby, Sonia Moore, and Jessica Windham. An advanced math group went also. This team was made up of Courtney Campbell, Beau Lassiter, Stephanie McCall, Mandy Davis, Adam Barr, Craig Spencer, Heather Smith, and Denise Thews.

Five NBHS students placed in the competition. This was especially nice because there were several schools represented. Beau Lassiter placed first in Computer Literacy, Donna Spencer placed seventh in Geometry, Justin Campbell placed sixth in Algebra I, and Daniel Witmer and Crystal Tatem both placed in the top ten in their events, Algebra II and Pre-Algebra.

Spring training!!!!!

The Coffee County Extension System held its First Annual Used

Oil Collection Day on February 17,

1996 at the New Brockton High School. The activity was a joint effort combining resources from Project Rose and the Alabama Depart-ment of Environmental Management, Pensacola Pollution Control, New Brockton High

FFA, Young Farmers of Coffee County, Coffee County 4-H, and the Coffee County Extension System.

MAST HELICOPTER VISITS ELBA SCOUTS A MAST helicopter from Ft. Rucker was in Elba Saturday morning showing members of the Tiger Cub Scouts details of the medical evacuation equipment. Elba City Council member Earl McCollough, who works at Ft. Rucker and with the military crews at MAST, arranged the visit. Standing by when the helicopter landed inthe parking lot of the old high school were two units of the Elba Fire Department and a police car. The Tiger Scouts were joined for the demonstration by interested friends and family

In the picture above the flight commander of the Huey helicopter is introducing the other professional members of the emergency medical team.

Everyone at the Elba Adult Day Care Center is getting ready to board their bus for one of their many one day outings supervised by the center's staff. Today is a trip to the Adult Day Care Center in Slocomb for lunch and a social visit. Their next planned trip will be to Shoney's in Enterprise for lunch. For more information concerning enrollment at the Adult Day Care Center, open to people of all ages, please call 897-3151, and ask for Lee Edwards.
